Hackney City Farm

Experience beekeeping
Make your own soap
Turn waste oil into diesel

If you want to learn to cut your energy bills, reduce your waste, live more healthily and improve your community, Hackney City Farm is running free workshops for you.

Over the course of six months you will come to meetings in the farm's own building made of straw!

You will hear from experts as well as from locals who have already started to make changes in their lives and community.

You will also have a chance to attend skills courses such as food smoking, bicycle maintenance and cleaning your home naturally.

Take positive steps to change. Come to the first meeting at Hackney City Farm on March 7th at 11:30.
